

SISKI Aostatal (Italy)

Valle d'Aosta, the Aosta Valley, is an autonomous region in northwestern Italy and is Italy's smallest region in terms of both population and area. It is the only region in Italy without provinces, and its 74 communes are divided into eight mountain communities. The Aosta region is situated between Mont Blanc and the Matterhorn.

SISKI, the Italian ski association in the Aosta Valley, consists of 28 ski regions. It is the second largest pool in Italy. Established in 1992, guests can ski all regions of the Aosta Valley with a single ski pass. Ski pass holders also get discounts at swimming pools, ice skating halls, museums and other attractions.

SISKI Aostatal

(Italy)

Project Details

Project Details	2008
POSS	127
Coder Unlimiteds	3S
Freemotion.Gate 'Full'	416 (with La Rosiere)
Access Gates	405
Mini control units	159
Data centers	6
Superdaz	1
Direct to Access	Yes
OPOS.Cash	Yes
Data media	Keyticket, barcode ticket, keycard ISO 15693 TRW

Winter sports enthusiasts enjoy 890 km slopes, 159 lifts, a snowboard park and the opportunity to ski across the borders of France or Switzerland. From the Aosta Valley, it's also only a short trip to La Rosiere, Zermatt or Alagna Valsesia.

Special features:

- Accurate pool accounting between Aosta, Zermatt and La Rosiere.
- Special configuration of editor („top to bottom“ architecture, i.e., updates of individual personalities are transferred to main data center.
- Communication via UMTS/GPRS per invitation to tender.